THE SIX SATELLITE WETLANDS IN MMR

BHANDUP PUMPING STATION

11ha Area | 30 Bird species | 14 Migratory species

This wetland is located to the east of Bhandup along the Eastern Express Highway. It is surrounded by mangroves, except the east, which is occupied by salt farms.

NON-RESIDENTIAL INDIAN (NRI) COMPLEX

19ha Area | 37 Bird species | 22 Migratory species

Located near NRI Complex, south of TSC, this wetland is surrounded by mangroves to the west and south, while residential apartments border its northeast and southeast. The southeast side of this wetland is also bordered with tall trees.

BELPADA

30ha Area | 30 Bird species | 19 Migratory species

This wetland is located to the northwest of Belpada village, Uran tehsil. It is situated between two narrow creeks on the east and west and surrounded by mangroves. This wetland also has scattered patches of mangroves.

PANJE

124ha Area | 50 Bird species | 31 Migratory species

Located towards the west of Dongri and Panje villages, this wetland is enclosed by an 8-10 feet high concrete wall and almost isolated from tidal influence. It has a narrow patch of mangrove (width: 300-500m, length: 1.5km) to the west, degraded mangroves, villages and roads to the east.

BHENDKHAL

8ha Area | 40 Bird species | 19 Migratory species

Located south of Bhendkhal village, Uran tehsil, the area has six wetlands, a freshwater wetland (on northwest) and five saltwater wetlands. These wetlands are surrounded by mangroves to the east and west, the north side is delimited with settlement, while the south is bordered by a creek.

According to the Wildlife Institute of India (WII), Dehradun, conservation or community reserves are protected areas that act as buffer zones or migration corridors between established national parks, wildlife sanctuaries and reserved and protected forests of India.

TRAINING SHIP CHANAKYA (TSC)

13ha Area | 21 Bird species | 11 Migratory species

This wetland is located behind the Training Ship Chanakya (TSC) Maritime Institute, Palm Beach Road, Seawoods, Navi Mumbai. To the west of this wetland are abandoned paddy fields and scrub (width: 200m, length: 1.5km), which is separated from the seashore by a narrow strip of mangroves (width: 100-200m, length: 1.5km).
